

Green tech exposure for UCSI students

TEN UCSI University students were rewarded for their interest and enthusiasm in the zero-emission all-electric Nissan Leaf. They received attractive prizes from Edaran Tan Chong Motor Sdn Bhd (ETCM) at a prize-giving ceremony held at the Nissan Raja Laut showroom recently.

ETCM had earlier held a Nissan Leaf Showcase at the university. The university's Facebook contest was held for two consecutive weeks in conjunction with the showcase. Students were required to submit a picture of themselves with the car, along with a suitable caption.

"It's very interesting to be able to see from the students perspective, their thoughts and passion about it," ETCM executive director Datuk Dr Ang Bong Beng said at the ceremony.

"We look forward to future collaborations with UCSI University in our quest for a better environment. We believe in creating awareness especially among the younger generation about the importance and benefit of embracing green technology and innovation," Ang added.

"I believe that blended learning such as this - a fusion of classroom instruction and online extensions - is a definitive way to enrich the learning experience of today's Gen-Y learners," UCSI University deputy vice chancellor (academic affairs and research) Prof Emeritus Dr Lim Koon Ong said.
