

Cool wear

By NASA MARIA ENTABAN

MAY has been a hot month, with the temperature at an all-time high and hardly any rain to offer respite from the heat.

Some students at UCSI University are ditching heavy jeans for dresses to keep cool during these hot days.

"I usually pair my dresses with flats but today I wore wedges because I'm attending a mini fashion show." — Carmen Chen, 18

"On Wednesdays, my friend and I have a 'dress-wearing' pact, when we both show up in college wearing dresses." — Sarah James, 18

"I wear dresses all the time, and they must always go with heels. More girls should wear dresses as they are beautiful and feminine." — Yang Ya See, 21

"It's just super hot these days I have to wear dresses which are a whole lot more cooling than any other clothes." — Adeline Chua, 21
