It's that time of the year again. Like thousands of students across the globe, graduates in our country are celebrating the culmination of their academic studies by casting off their mortar boards and sharing the joy of success with their loved ones, as they embark on a new chapter in their lives.

Universiti Malaya (UM) Pro-Chancellor Raja Muda Perak Raja Nazrin Shah leaving the Dewan Tunku Canselor after the third session of UM's convocation. Behind him are (first row) Pro-Chancellors Toh Puan Dr Aishah Ong and Tan Sri Siti Norma Yaakob followed by the university's board chairman Tan Sri Arshad Ayub and vice-chancellor Prof Datuk Dr Ghauth Jasmon.

The first batch of graduates of UCSI University's pharmacy programme are all smiles during their convocation. UCSI obtained their full university status last year.

I DID IT, MOM! Marketing graduate Loo Thiam Kiat, 23, proudly shows off her scroll at UCSI University's 22nd convocation. She was among the 1,346 students who received scrolls at the ceremony.

TRIUMPHANT TWINS: Sarawakians Tan Geok Fong (left) and Geok Sien, both 22, jubilate after they each graduated with Bachelor of Science in Forestry from UPM.

ROYAL TOUCH: The Yang di-Pertuan Besar of Selangor, Sultan Salahuddin Abdul Aziz Shah Al-Hajj, officiating UKM's 37th convocation. UKM vice-chancellor Tan Sri Prof Dr Shariqul Hameed looks on.
